

2024 Women's Welsh Cup 100 Ball Main Draw

With 19 entries the Main competition has been sorted into 5 geographical groups.

Each group will play a group stage to determine a group winner. This will be followed by knockout rounds to establish the teams who make it to the finals day to compete in the Semi-Final and Final. In the Main competition two group winners will play in a play-off to determine this.

Regional Playoff:

The Regional Playoff will be played between North Group 1 and the West Group (1 or 2) winner with the least amount of points after the group stage. In the event that both West group winners have the same total of points the decision will be based on the net run rate(NRR), the team with the lowest NRR will play in the playoff. In the event that the group's NRR is equal, the decision will be based off which team has lost the highest number of wickets in the group stages.
